COPS RAID CANNABIS 'FACTORY'

A CANNABIS factory equipped with thousands of pounds worth of equipment was discovered by police during a raid at one of Harlow's most prestigious housing developments.

Officers seized around 450 suspected plants when they swooped on the property at Newhall.

About a dozen officers took part in the raid last Tuesday afternoon. They broke down the front door of the house and, once inside, found several rooms which had been converted for the cultivation and preparation of cannabis.

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

They also discovered a complex set-up of electrical equipment including lamps, filters, junction boxes, fans and filters. Police estimated that around £5,000 had been spent on the hardware.

The cannabis plants being cultivated were at various stages of growth.

An Essex Police spokesman said an initial estimate of the crop's street value was several thousands of pounds.

BUNDLE OF JOY: Baby Rebecca with proud mum Melanie

The best presents of all

CHRISTMAS Day brought some extra-special presents for families and kept midwives at Princess Alexandra Hospital busy!

One of the new arrivals was Rebecca Lilly Goody, who weighed in at a healthy 6lb 8oz when she was delivered at 7.38pm.

She was born two days later than expected but there was still just enough time left in the day for mum Melanie (39) to tuck into Christmas dinner brought to the maternity ward by husband Jason.

"It might have been a cold turkey dinner but it was one of the best I've ever had!" joked Melanie.

Mum and baby returned home to Wedgewood Drive, Church Langley, on Boxing Day where they got a warm welcome from Rebecca's older sister Amelia (3).

Another couple who celebrated Christmas with a new bundle of joy were Debbie Monk and Kevin Turner, of Primley Lane Sheering. Their daughter Dasiy Louise was born at 3.41am and weighed 9lb 5oz.

Debbie and Kevin, who already have two children - Tristan (2) and Izzy (16 months) - were able to leave hospital in time to enjoy Christmas dinner at the home of Debbie's parents at Church Langley.

Rebecca and Daisy were two of nine babies born at PAH on Christmas Day.

Four to face deportation after raids on eateries

FOUR illegal immigrants caught working in restaurants in Harlow face deportation.

UK Border Agency officers working in partnership with local police swooped on The Essence Of India and the Old Cathay, both in Hart Road.

Immigration checks revealed that three Bangladeshi men employed at The Essence of India were working in the UK without permission while a failed asylum seeker from China was caught working at Old Cathay.

Arrangements are now being made to remove all four is from the country. The restaurant owners face fines of between £10,000-£30,000 if they are found to have not carried out appropriate pre-employment checks.

During a simultaneous raid on The Oasis Hotel, also in Hart Road, officers arrested a 28-year-old Namibian immigrant with convictions for assault and theft.

He was found to have overstayed his visa and was due to be deported from the UK on Christmas Eve.

Detective Constable Adam Rogers of the UK Border Agency's immigration crime team said: "The agency is committed to tracking down and removing immigration offenders. 'Criminals like this are living on borrowed time. They should be looking over their shoulders because, make no mistake, they will be found.'"

Sergeant Lewis Basford, of the Harlow Neighbourhood Policing Team, said: "This multi-agency approach will be a recurring operation throughout the town, targeting those employers and businesses that fail to comply with the UK legislation."

Pair named in New Year Honours list

A RESIDENT of Old Harlow and a nurse from Sheering have been named in the list of New Year's Honours published today (Thursday).

John Graham Marks has been made a member of the Order of the British Empire (OBE) for charitable services.

And Dr Claire Bertschinger, who has helped patients in crisis-stricken countries for more than 25 years has been awarded the title of Dame Commander of the British Empire – the female equivalent of a knighthood.

'Torture' trio behaved like bullying savages

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsexnews.co.uk

THREE teenagers who tortured a vulnerable friend for three hours were told by a judge their behaviour was like that of savage characters in William Golding's classic novel The Lord of the Flies.

Adam Richardson (18) and James Nicholson (19) forced Keith Cottle to drink washing up liquid, salt and milk, shaved his long hair into a Mohican and repeatedly kicked and punched him, Chelmsford Crown Court heard.

They were watched by Richardson's girlfriend, Hayley Godfrey (19), who put her hand over their 17-year-old victim's mouth to muffle him when someone knocked on his door in a Harlow hostel after hearing him stamp on the floor for help.

The prosecution described Mr Cottle's prolonged assault as degrading and humiliating, while Judge David Turner called it ugly, brutal and dehumanising bullying. "This was inexplicable behaviour worthy of William Golding's Lord of the Flies," he told the trio.

Richardson, of Torkildsen Way, Harlow, and Nicholson, of Spinning Wheel Mead, Harlow, admitted assault causing actual bodily harm while Godfrey, also of Torkildsen Way, pleaded guilty to common assault.

Emma Nash, prosecuting, said that at the time of the offences in July last year Mr Cottle and Godfrey both had rooms in sheltered accommodation for vulnerable people. All four were in Godfrey's room during the incident.

Miss Nash told the court: "Nicholson pinned down Mr Cottle and Richardson began to shave his hair and eyebrows. He struggled to get up and was stamping on the floor. Godfrey was just sitting there."

"There was a knock at the door which was answered by Richardson while Godfrey put her hand over Mr Cottle's mouth to stop him calling out for help."

"Richardson and Nicholson started to kick, headbutt, elbow and knee Mr Cottle. He went to the bathroom to clean himself up and they continued to assault him in there. Richardson even stood on the toilet so he could headbutt him with greater force."

The prosecution said Nicholson then poured milk, water, salt and washing up liquid down Mr Cottle's throat while Richardson held his mouth open.

"They also stuck the handle of the toothbrush down his throat until he was sick in the toilet," said Miss Nash. "They continued to headbutt and elbow him and also

MP's words of praise during visit to foodbank

STAFF and volunteers at a charity providing emergency food to people in crisis have been given a vote of thanks by Harlow MP Bill Rammell

During the past year Harlow Foodbank has helped more than 500 people.

Mr Rammell was keen to see for himself how it works and got the chance to do so when he visited the project last Wednesday.

The Foodbank is a concept designed to help individuals and families in times of trouble by providing free food until the appropriate agencies can help.

Donations collected from the public at supermarkets, churches, schools and community groups are stored in a warehouse and then given to people referred to the project by frontline professionals.

Mr Rammell said: "I am delighted to be able to help with this initiative as I believe it provides a useful stop-gap for people who, for whatever reason, have found themselves without enough money to buy food for themselves and their families in the short term."

Gary Knott, of the Michael

Roberts Charitable Trust which runs Harlow Foodbank, said: "I would like to express sincere thanks to all of our partners who have made regular and one-off food donations which we really do value and appreciate."

made him clean himself up from the blood and sick as they continued to kick him in the head."

Mr Cottle, who still lives in supported accommodation but no longer in Harlow, managed to escape to the hostel's reception at 8.30pm.

Miss Nash told the court her client later said he "felt like he was being tortured". The three defendants were arrested the following day.

Alison Lambert, representing Richardson, said he was full of remorse. He had difficulties dealing with group situations and accepted what happened went out of control but did not know why.

Samantha Leigh, representing Nicholson, said he had been diagnosed as having Asperger's Syndrome. He knew he had done wrong and was sorry.

Helen Fleck, representing Godfrey, told the court her client was disgusted with herself and was deeply shameful.

Passing sentence, Judge Turner said what may have begun as a playfight had speedily deteriorated.

He described Godfrey as "mean and cowardly", while Richardson and Nicholson had carried out "foul bullying with no motive or rationale beyond gratuitous violence".

Making all three the subject of community orders, the judge said he had considered custodial sentences but had been influenced by psychiatric reports and the fact that none had previous convictions.

Richardson was given a youth rehabilitation order with two years supervision, 140 hours of unpaid work and required to complete 10 days of education training and employment activity.

Nicholson was given a community order with two years supervision, 140 hours of unpaid work and a mental health treatment requirement for two years.

Godfrey was given a community order with 18 months supervision and 100 hours of unpaid work.

All three will also have to take part in a restorative justice mediation session with Mr Cottle and were ordered to pay him compensation of £500 between them.

Police uncover cannabis farm in house

Police drugs experts are currently analysing the yield which could eventually see the value increased into the tens of thousands of pounds.

The execution of the warrant was in response to a tip-off from members of the public.

The find was this week described as "significant" by Sergeant Lewis Basford from Harlow's neighbourhood policing team.

"A warrant was obtained from the local magistrate where upon entry at the address we found a significant cannabis factory," he said. "Initially we were surprised as it was a really nice house."

"We dismantled the factory, seized and destroyed over 450 plants as well as several thousands pounds worth of equipment."

Officers are currently trying to establish the identities of the property's inhabitants and were hoping to make arrests in the "immediate future". However, no-one had been arrested as the Star went to press yesterday (Wednesday).

Motorway closed after pigs escape from crash lorry

BOTH carriageways of the M11 between Harlow and Stansted were closed yesterday morning (Wednesday) when a herd of pigs escaped on to the road after the lorry in which they were being carried hit the central reservation.

Emergency services, the Highways Agency, a vet and RSPCA officers were called to the crash scene between junctions seven and eight of the motorway at 4.45am.

When they arrived they found up to 70 pigs trapped in the wreckage of the lorry which had been transporting them to the Brentwood area.

About 12 pigs weighing 20 stone each had escaped on to the southbound carriageway, forcing police to close the motorway in both directions.

By STAR REPORTERS
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

The pigs were rounded up by firefighters and police – some using riot shields – and left to graze by the side of the road while emergency crews dealt with the aftermath of the crash.

However, the route remained closed in both directions because police were concerned the animals could wander into the road. Repairs were also carried out to the central reservation.

According to the RSPCA, four of the pigs suffered serious injuries and had to be put down at the scene.

The lorry driver was treated for head and shoulder injuries at the scene by paramedics before being taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital.

The motorway was eventually reopened towards the middle of the afternoon.

Householders taking heed of the need to recycle waste

RESIDENTS in Essex have reduced the amount of rubbish they put out for collection by four-and-a-half black sacks each during the past 12 months.

Efforts to persuade households to reduce, reuse and recycle waste have resulted in enough rubbish to fill 26,042 double decker buses bypassing landfill and waste sites this year.

In the past six months alone, there has been a 6.1 per cent reduction in the amount people are throwing away, which equates to 148lb per household or 40,000 tonnes countywide.

The latest data was released by Essex County Council to mark European Waste Prevention Week, which promotes waste reduction and sustainable consumption.

County Hall officials have also been working to reduce the amount of unnecessary and unrecyclable packaging produced in Essex. Trading standards officers have carried out an 18-month initiative with 23 packaging firms to achieve a 12,622-tonne reduction in the amount sent to landfill.

The amount of plastic produced fell by 8 per cent, steel dropped by 5.8 per cent, glass was reduced by 3.7 per cent and wood was down 7.8 per cent.

Tracy Chapman, cabinet member for environment and waste, said: "These are absolutely outstanding results, which really show that our efforts in working with our residents and businesses to reduce waste are paying off."

"We simply have to reduce our waste, not only for our environment but in terms of sheer costs to dispose of it and we're looking to lead the way with our efforts here in Essex."

"We'll continue with our efforts to get businesses and shops to reduce their waste and support residents to do their bit through our recycling centres, campaigns and roadshows."

Plea for help to find Winnie

THE owners of a Jack Russell dog that went missing at Latton Common, Harlow, on Monday have appealed for help to find it. Anyone with information about the white and brown Jack Russell called Winnie should call Sarah Pottle and Colin Wilkes on (01279) 835478 or 07791 197210.

Police arrest seven in pub drug patrols

SEVEN people were arrested after police officers using sniffer dogs mounted patrols to collar drug users in some of Harlow's town centre pubs and clubs.

The team carried out searches in four pubs and one nightclub, checking people queueing for entry as well as toilets and seating areas in search of any illegal substances.

In addition to the seven arrests for drug-related offences, officers cautioned two people and seized quantities of discarded drugs.

The crackdown, codenamed Operation Napalm,

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsexesnews.co.uk

involved a team of officers from the Safer Harlow Partnership – which includes Harlow Council – and police and specialist dogs trained to sniff out 12 different substances including cocaine, heroin and cannabis.

Nick Churchill, chairman of Harlow Council's licensing committee, said the operation was timed to deter drug users from spoiling other people's Christmas and New Year celebrations.

"This is a regular exercise we carry out with the co-operation of local premises," he said. "The timing of this action is to give people a safe and enjoyable time whilst out celebrating the lead up to Christmas and the New Year."

"Drugs are not welcome in Harlow at any time and this action sends out a strong warning to those who are thinking about bringing drugs with them on a night out in Harlow."

Police licensing officer Jenny McCallum added: "This on-going operation has one key aim; to keep people safe. I would like to thank all the partners for their continued efforts to achieve this aim."

Inspector Tom Mitchell, of Harlow Police, said: "I would like to thank the management and staff of the clubs and pubs for once again welcoming the dogs in to their premises and supporting our efforts to deter drug misuse in and around licensed premises."

Balloons released in loving memory

A BALLOON release for people wanting to remember loved ones at Christmas has so far raised £300 for two charities.

North Weald-based funeral directors Stuart Poulton organised a memorial service and the balloon release in aid of St Clare Hospice and the armed forces charity Help for Heroes.

The firm invited clients to send in the names of their loved ones for inclusion on a special memorial tree at its office in High Street. They were also given the opportunity to make a donation towards the release of the balloons.

Due to the recent heavy snowfall, the service at the Church Of The Immaculate Conception in Epping had to be postponed until January 29. However, the balloon release went ahead as planned last Tuesday.

A spokeswoman said: "Christmas is a very special time of year when we spend time with our loved ones and to have that empty chair at the table can be very hard to cope with."

"By holding our Christmas memorial service we feel we can offer just a small amount of support during this otherwise difficult time – from one family to another."

Ambulance service given a clean bill of health after improving infection controls

AMBULANCES and depots in the East of England have cleaned up their act after the East of England Ambulance Trust was found to be falling short in infection and cleanliness standards.

After reviewing its ambulance vehicle and depot cleaning programme, the trust has received a positive report back from the Care Quality Commission.

After meeting only six out of 12 cleanliness standards in its 2008/09 report, the trust gave a commitment to achieve immediate improvements across the service to help prevent and control infections.

After unannounced inspections at seven of the service's 100 ambulance stations and of vehicles attending three hospitals in the summer, the CQC highlighted areas in which the service needed to address infection prevention and control.

Now a return visit by the CQC has found no evidence that the trust breached regulations to protect patients, staff and others from the risks of acquiring a healthcare-associated infection.

Dr Scott Turner, one of the service's joint medical directors, said: "We took the initial inspection report extremely seriously as the safety of our patients and staff is an absolute priority to us. We were already doing a lot of work in relation to infection prevention and control, but the CQC highlighted where more had to be done."

"The return visit made by the CQC last month has reflected our ability to address these requirements and recommendations in the fight against the spread of infection."

Buying new cleaning materials and detergent wipes for cleaning the inside of ambulances and improving awareness of infection prevention and control helped improve the situation.

COMMUNITY NEWSEuro MP flies the flag for World Cup bid

FOOTBALL-mad Euro MP and former Harlow Council leader Richard Howitt predicted a double victory for England in 2010 as he threw his support behind the country's bid to host the World Cup finals.

RICHARD HOWITT

Mr Howitt, who represents the East of England which includes Harlow, is not only predicting an English World Cup victory in the 2010 finals but is hoping to do everything possible to ensure the country succeeds in its bid to become the host nation in 2018.

A member of the European Parliament's Sports Group, Mr Howitt has urged football fans in Harlow to play their part by sending a message of support to FIFA via the Football Association's website.

He said: "This coming year may bring many things but I am sure that England's victory in the World Cup will be one of them.

"Not only that but I will be doing everything that I can to help win our bid to host the 2018 finals. I urge people in Essex to do their bit too and back the bid online.

"It is important for a European nation to win the bid for 2018, but only England can make it a success for the whole continent. I will be pushing to win the support of European football associations that sit on FIFA's committee to secure England's victory as host nation.

"As a keen football fan, England's 2018 bid is getting my full support. Being chosen as host nation would be great news for the country and great to bring the game back to its birthplace."

Giving kids a healthy start to the new year

YOUNGSTERS in Harlow will soon have the chance to become fitter, healthier and happier when a new fitness programme designed to tackle childhood obesity is launched in the new year.

The Mind Exercise, Nutrition...Do It! (MEND) scheme aims to help overweight children aged 7-13 become healthier and more active with help from their parents or carers.

They are taught about diet, exercise and nutrition. Each session aims to promote sustained improvements in overall health, fitness and wellbeing.

Hannah Gilchrist, MEND programme manager and senior community dietitian at NHS West Essex, said: "It can change family lives with children becoming healthier and fitter, boosting their self esteem and confidence.

"Families are getting the chance to improve their health with this fantastic free course."

Sessions will run from 6-8pm on Mondays and Wednesdays for 10 weeks starting on January 11 at Mark Hall Sports Centre, in London Road.

A number of course places are available free of charge thanks to the Big Lottery Wellbeing Fund and are being offered on a first come, first served basis to eligible families.

To register, call 0800 230 0263 or visit www.mendcentral.org. A parent or carer must accompany each child to the twice-weekly sessions and places must be booked in advance.

County Hall on the shortlist for awards

ESSEX County Council has been nominated for five separate Local Government Chronicle awards.

The authority has received the most nominations out of all councils, with recognition in the Innovation, Legal, Personalisation & Choice, Place of the Year and Procurement categories.

County Hall chief executive Joanna Killian said she was pleased the council has been recognised.

"The LGC Awards are important to everyone in local government," she said. "To have been shortlisted in five categories is a huge achievement and a reflection of the high quality of staff we have working in Essex, delivering the projects which have led to the nominations."

Singer entertains at club's Xmas lunch

A RECORD 97 members and guests attended Epping Probus Club's Christmas lunch at the Lindsey Street Community Association during which they enjoyed a talk by opera singer and music teacher Jill Pert.

Ms Pert, originally from Chingford, moved to Canada where she graduated in music at Toronto University before returning to the UK. She had a successful career with the English National Opera and the Doyle Carte Opera Company.

She talked to the group about the rigours of singing with a touring company, giving two daily performances six days a week.

The next meeting of Epping Probus – a group for retired and semi-retired men and women – will be on January 13 when Graeme Cooper will be speaking about Battlefield tours with particular emphasis on Napoleon's Waterloo.

● Membership of Epping Probus Club is now over 60 but there are still a few vacancies for new members. Anyone who would like to join should contact the secretary Peter Francis on (01992) 573188.

Haven's help for homeless

By CHRIS MOSS
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

SCORES of homeless people celebrated Christmas with a roof over their heads thanks to the selfless dedication of volunteers at a Harlow shelter.

The Haven Homeless Shelter, at the Playbarn in Abercrombie Way, was officially opened by Harlow MP Bill Rammell last Wednesday to provide warmth, food and a safe place to sleep for the homeless over the festive period.

Mr Rammell congratulated staff and volunteers for their hard work as they celebrated their 14th successful Christmas of operation.

Also invited to the opening were representatives of local companies and national firms with businesses in Harlow which have donated food to the night shelter.

Mr Rammell said: "It is at times like this that we need to care for those without a home or a family as much as we can.

"At Christmas it always strikes me how many excellent voluntary organisations we have in Harlow with so many dedicated volunteers giving up their time to help others.

"This really is a tribute to those people. As the local Member of Parliament, I am always pleased to do all I can to help."

Mick Granger, chairman of the Chocolate Run Haven charity which runs the shelter, added: "Christmas is the worst time of year for the homeless, especially with the weather as cold as it has been this year.

"Haven is proud of its reputation as a place which not only provides shelter for people over the Christmas period, but is a place where people can come and go as they please and get involved in fun activities like table tennis.

"The aim is to make people feel as much at home as possible and I am proud to celebrate the shelter's 14th successful year."

Finding more lines on story of rail station

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

BURNT Mill railway station – now known as Harlow Town – was the subject of last week's Nostalgia musings.

By coincidence, an interesting document entitled The Life and Death of Burnt Mill Village: A Collection of Memories landed on the Nostalgia desk some time ago. Inside this pamphlet written by local residents there is a chapter on Burnt Mill station by Nick Ellis. The new town station opened in 1960 as a replacement for the old 19th century station. But according to Mr Ellis, Burnt Mill might never have had a rail stop-off point and the history of the new town might have been very different.

"The major criterion for the engineers brought in to survey such a line would be to ease the gradients," he wrote. "In order to cut the cost of digging tunnels and raising embankments they would usually prefer the most naturally level route.

"For a route from Cambridge to London, the Lea Valley offered an ideal exit from London. So the first plans drawn up for a London to Cambridge line missed Burnt Mill and passed through Ware, Braughing and Barkway [in Hertfordshire]."

But canal engineer Nicholas Wilcox Cundy believed the Rivers Lea and Stort provided the best route as far as Bishop's Stortford.

By the mid-1830s there were three different routes for a new London to Cambridge line. In 1835, Scottish engineer James Walker was asked to look at the competing schemes and he chose the Lea and Stort route.

The Northern and Eastern Company was incorporated a year later with £1,200,000 of capital – a fortune in those days.

Initially, plans were made for an Islington to Cambridge line to open in 1839 but protests from landlords in Parliament meant delays and the change of termination point from Islington to Stratford.

By 1840 the line had reached Broxbourne and a year later Burnt Mill before heading off to Spellbrook and Bishop's Stortford – at a cost of £25,000 a mile.

ANY Star readers who have just returned from a holiday to sunnier climes may have missed last week's snowfall which, as usual, through the country into chaos.

Sadly it came too early for a white Christmas but here on the Nostalgia desk we decided to root out some old snaps of winters past in Harlow. Our first port of call was David Devine, local history officer at the Museum of Harlow, who found this gem in the museum's extensive archives. It shows St Paul's Church in the town centre before the arrival of much of the development that is there today, including The Playhouse theatre. The picture dates back to 1967.

● If you have any pictures of snow-clad Harlow in years gone by which you would like to share with our readers, send them to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1J or email star@hertssexnews.co.uk.

Tree toy mystery of park's secret Santa

A MYSTERY Santa has been brightening up the lives of children visiting a Welsh park by hanging hundreds of toys on trees.

A few of the toys started appearing in October, but over the past few weeks more and more have been appearing on trees at the Millennium Coastal Park in Llanelli.

Bemused staff who work at the park have no idea who's been leaving them there.

The items left range from teddies to toy trains, with some being toys given away free with food at takeaway restaurants.

Last week staff spotted a man putting toys on some branches and chased him when he fled, but they were unable to catch him as he ran away across a nearby golf course.

The presents were dotted all over the four-mile site.

Park manager Rory Dickinson said all the toys would be handed over to charity shops.

He added: "I know it is the season to be jolly and giving, but whoever is responsible for this has gone way overboard."

"There have been lots of visitors in Santa hats in recent weeks but we have no idea who is responsible."

The Labour legacy of bust and boom

SIR, Long-serving Labour activist Tom Farr asks why Conservatives have cut some services supplied by Harlow Council (Letters, December 17).

He asks why we introduced wheelie bins and car park charges. The answers rest not with Conservatives but with Mr Farr's own Labour councillors, who indulged themselves and their supporters in years of reckless spending, unsustainable even with the highest council tax in the country.

They got through £20m of reserves in the past 15 years. Typical Labour economics – they spend until they run out of money and can't tax people enough to keep up.

While Mr Farr and co were busy spending our money, they forgot one of Harlow's biggest problems – parking. They did nothing about it for 60 years.

They also turned a blind eye to the fact that Harlow had the worst recycling record in Essex.

They kept pouring money into facilities like the Leah Manning Centre despite dwindling numbers needing them. They were spending over £½m a year on the advice centre – more than any other in the region. The old pool was costing over £1m a year and bringing in less than half that. The same with The Playhouse.

Now his Government's introduction of bus passes is costing another £million over and above what they give us for implementing it. Had Harlow Pool still been open, free swimming would have cost another £500,000, with the Government contributing just half that. And now they want us to fork out £400,000 a year to cut council house rents.

Harlow's Conservatives have to clear up the financial mess Mr Farr and his Labour cohorts left behind. It will be the same for the next government. It always is the same

Snow man was our good samaritan

SIR, I was travelling home from Waltham Abbey to Harlow last Monday night. I started my journey around 5pm and the weather was awful.

I have an eight-seater minibus and I was travelling with my five children and our dog. We managed to get to the King Harold pub when I realised that my minibus was not going to make it up the hill, so at that point I decided to turn around and go back to my sister's house.

On our return journey, just around the Fishers Green area of the Crooked Mile, my minibus decided it no longer wanted to stay on the road and it started to slide towards a ditch.

This is where I would like to thank the man who came to my rescue and pushed the back end of the minibus straight and saved me and my children from a long cold night stuck on the Crooked Mile.

He was there helping all the cars and doing a fantastic job for everyone passing that point on the road.

He is definitely our hero; we have no idea who he is but he had a foreign accent. My family and I would like to say thank you very much to this lovely man.

Samantha Keys-Kidd
Harlow (full address supplied - Editor)

SIR, On Friday, December 18 we all awoke to find that Harlow had been covered in snow during the night.

I work in London and usually drive to the Tube. On this occasion I decided that it would be safer to drive to Harlow Town station and use the national rail service, which I try not to do very often because it costs more than five times as much as my usual fare to get to work.

I set off in very good time and made it to the train station, only to find that I couldn't park there because of the car park closure.

I decided that all wasn't lost and that I would take my car back home and catch a bus to the station instead. I ended up on route 8002 from Staple Tye and bought an adult one-day ticket.

Owing to the weather conditions the bus journey was understandably very slow, but I was not worried because I thought that I would get to work eventually. Well, that wasn't to be. The bus pulled into the bus station to drop off all the shoppers and then the driver told me he wasn't carrying on to the train station.

I was left wondering what to do next. By then I had been travelling for over two hours and had got nowhere.

Whilst I understand that the adverse weather was a key factor, I still feel very let down.

Councillor Tony Hall, chairman
Environment & Community Committee
Civic Centre, Harlow

Tories were left to pick up the pieces

SIR, Labour councillor Mark Wilkinson feigns surprise that Harlow Council has declined to accept the Government's subsidy proposals for halving council rent increases next year (Star, December 17). Given that Harlow Council officers have calculated that by accepting the Government's offer the people of Harlow would be £420,000 worse off, what surprises me is that councillor Wilkinson kept a straight face when photographed.

But then again we have always known that Labour politicians can't do maths. That's why, when the people of Harlow turned their back on the Labour Party last year, the incoming Conservative administration was shocked to discover a massive black hole in the council's finances.

Naturally, councillor Wilkinson and his sheepish chums are the first to criticise Harlow's Conservative administration for being forced to make regrettable reductions in council spending, but it was Labour's sorry mismanagement that has brought us to this sorry pass.

Only Labour politicians bred on 13 years of spin would claim that the Government's £420,000 hit to the council's hard-pressed budget constituted a good deal.

Perhaps councillor Wilkinson would like to identify the council services that would have to be cut to make good the £420,000 shortfall? No, I thought not.

As with Labour's deceit over the introduction of the wheelie bins, we are witnessing the extraordinary lengths to which a discredited Labour Party will go to cling onto Bill Rammell's Parliamentary seat. Whether it is sorting out the mess left by councillor here in Harlow or Gordon Brown's abysmal handling of the British economy, it is only the Conservatives who have the courage and honesty to take the very difficult and sometimes unpopular decisions to get Harlow and Britain back on its feet.

Was it not ever thus?
County councillor Guy Mitchinson
Joyners Field, Harlow

A&E services under threat

SIR, It has been brought to my attention by my colleague Robert Halfon that Bill Rammell claims Labour has no plans to close accident and emergency departments across the country (Star, December 17).

This is untrue. Under the Government, hospitals such as Chase Farm in Enfield have seen their A&E departments downgraded. And what about Burnley or Hemel Hempstead?

Mr Rammell has also managed to overlook the threatened closure of accident and emergency departments closer to his constituency, such as those in Whittington and at the North Middlesex Hospital. This is directly as a result of Labour's reconfiguration of accident and emergency services and Mr Rammell is wrong to suggest otherwise.

A Conservative government would scrap Labour's plans to cut A&E services which are not supported by evidence that patient access and care will be improved.

Andrew Lansley
Shadow Secretary of State for Health
House of Commons

We rejected wheelie bins

SIR, The trouble with councillor Tony Hall is he is desperate to prove he's right and the rest of town is wrong about wheelie bins. His latest attempt to justify the introduction of the wheelie bins (Letters, December 17) is to blame everyone else.

There is a simple truth: when Labour was in charge with support from the Liberal Democrats we did start the process, as the contract for the bins was up for renewal. One early option was to bring it back in house.

We set up a three-member working group to review, evaluate and make recommendations about how we could deliver a service as well as increasing recycling. They met in private and had no power to make any decision.

The Labour Party supported the need to increase recycling and were supportive of food waste, green waste and nappies being separated out at source and collected separately. Our biggest debate was how to achieve this. There were different options to enable that to occur without the need to introduce expensive, ugly and unwanted wheelie bins.

It is true the working group recommended the wheelie bin option could provide value for money. The Labour member reported back the information and facts which were taken to the full Labour group as well as members and rejected.

The Labour Party, whilst positive about value for money, was and still remains concerned about the impact on our community. That is why only Labour opposed the recommendation.

I was asked to join the working group and I'm sure councillor Hall will admit I fought tooth and nail to reduce the impact on local people.

It is true some people want and welcome wheelie bins; our option would have been about choice for each resident to decide what they wanted.

The collection method isn't the issue. The real issue is we could achieve a higher level of recycling without the townwide introduction of wheelie bins. That's the truth.

The town has been bullied into introducing wheelie bins. As the Audit Commission pointed out, this Tory council should take more notice of the local community.

We're now into the blame game but isn't it the simple truth about who listens and is more supportive to the real Harlow.

Councillor Tony Durcan
Rundells, Harlow

Chancellor's budget trick

SIR, I see there is the usual Labour fumbling over the finances in Bill Rammell's comments on the health service (Star, December 17).

He claims the 0.5 per cent increase in National Insurance contributions, which is the second rise announced this year to take effect after the next General Election, is to help halve the UK's budget deficit over four years.

In raising an additional £1.5bn a year (source: Table 1.2 - Pre Budget Report) it will take over 75 years to achieve that!

And yet the Chancellor, in his Pre Budget Report, claimed the tax rise was to protect the very frontline services to be hit hardest by the increase – the health service! Although dressed up as National Insurance, this rise is just another stealth tax and a double whammy, hitting public services and their staff.

Employers and employees will each have to pay one percentage point extra in National Insurance contributions. Actually, it's a triple whammy as employees pay their NI contributions out of income already taxed.

So which is it? Reduce the biggest debt burden in history or protect services? It is the usual Labour budget trick of trying to spend the same money twice. Can they ever be trusted with our money?

Councillor Simon Carter

Thanks to staff in stroke unit

SIR, I recently suffered a stroke at home and I would like to thank, through your paper, all the staff at the Princess Alexandra Hospital stroke unit to whom I owe my life.

These people, from the consultant down to the cleaners, are the most dedicated people I have ever met. The treatment and care I received was excellent.

I spent 11 days on the ward and made a full recovery, so thank you all for your dedication and hard work. You will be in my heart always.

AS Christmas spending begins to take its toll on our finances, a quick fix loan can seem tempting - but could you recognise when this offer was coming from a loan shark? As part of our Barclays Money Skills partnership, designed to help readers make the most of their money, ANNA CROALL spoke to trading standards experts about the problem.

WHAT may seem like a good deal can quickly turn into a nightmare if you fall victim to a loan shark, otherwise known as an illegal money lender or doorstep lender.

They will typically charge huge sums for their illegal service - the highest recorded annual interest rate was an astronomical 117,000 per cent.

And if you can't pay up, they can get violent.

The illegal money lending team at East of England Trading Standards are issuing a warning to customers to be aware of the perils of borrowing from such sources.

A spokesman said: "Although they appear friendly at first, when their 'clients' struggle to pay they can become violent."

"As money 'owed' to a loan shark is not legally enforceable they frequently resort to intimidation and violence to get back what they think they are owed."

So what are the tell-tale signs when

Don't fall prey to loan sharks trying to spot an illegal money lender? The Government's Stop Loan Sharks project highlights a number of things to look out for.

"Loan sharks tend to operate in a small community and will start out being friendly and offering to help with financial problems," said the spokesman.

"They rarely offer any paperwork and if they get their clients to sign a document the client will rarely get a copy. They can often randomly add fees to the amount owed."

Marie-Claire Berreen, Barclays community investment manager, said: "Research shows that many people who encounter loan sharks would consider them to be a friend. This means that many people don't know they are borrowing from a loan shark.

"There are many ways to borrow money affordably and legally such as credit unions. Credit unions are financial co-operatives owned and controlled by their members. They offer savings and great value loans plus they are local, ethical and know what their members want."

"If you're unsure where to get help with a loan, seek help from an impartial money advice service or Citizens' Advice Bureau before making your decision."

The Stop Loan Sharks project wants people to ask themselves these five questions:

- Have you, or anyone you know, been offered a cash loan?
- Have you been threatened when you couldn't pay?
- Have you found that what you owe keeps growing even though you are making payments?
- Has your benefit card been taken from you?
- Do you not know the total amount owed, the APR or how to cancel?

If you have answered yes to any of these, then help is available from the Stop Loan Sharks team.

They are keen to hear from anyone who thinks an illegal money lender is operating in their community.

Nationwide, the project has helped more than 10,000 victims, written off more than £30m of illegal debt to date and seized or confiscated more than £570,000 in cash. They have secured more than 100 prosecutions - leading to 50 years' worth of prison sentences.

Case study

THE biggest case for the illegal money lending team to date involved Paul Nicholson, who operated in Widnes and Runcorn. At the time of his arrest he had about 900 clients and used violence and sexual intimidation against his victims. He even raped one of his victims.

A former nightclub doorman who lived in a £1m home in Delamere, Cheshire, he was convicted in February of 18 charges including rape, 12 counts of blackmail, lying about his criminal record, operating without a licence and assault.

He was jailed indefinitely under an Imprisonment for Public Protection order.

what's on at The Playhouse

PANTOMIME: Chuckle off the Christmas over-indulgence by joining the star-studded cast of Cinderella at the Playhouse for this year's spectacular family pantomime. Featuring star of stage and screen Sandra Dickinson as the Fairy Godmother, CBBC presenter Ben Hanson as Buttons and reality TV star Rob McVeigh alongside a talented cast of local youngsters, the show runs daily until January 10 and tickets are available from (01279) 431945, priced £10-£16.50.

DANCE: Harlow Ballet Association hosts its annual New Year Gala on Sunday. Featuring excerpts from Coppelia, the group's full-length ballet chosen for performance later in the year, and the 23rd HBA Choreographic Competition, the perfectly-poised show promises to usher in the New Year with a real flourish. Performances begin at 3pm and 7.45pm in the Studio, with tickets priced £9 (£6 children) available from (01279) 431945.

what's on at The Square

SUNDAY: Hilariously inept hospital DJ Ivan Brackenbury brings his Disease Hour roadshow to The Square for an evening of madcap mirth, inappropriate chit-chat and painfully funny faux-pas. The show won huge acclaim at this year's Edinburgh Festival from critics and pundits alike, and his trademark catchphrase of "He's bonkers" will live on long after the night's high jinks have finished. Supporting Ivan are stand-ups Diane Morgan and Sol Bernstein, the self-proclaimed oldest Jewish comedian still working in the UK. Doors open at 7.30pm for an 8.30pm start and tickets cost £5 from (01279) 305000.

Spring selection to suit all tastes

AN exciting programme of entertainment is set to bring the wow factor to The Playhouse as the Harlow theatre gears up for the start of its new season.

Kicking off on Sunday with Harlow Ballet Association's annual New Year Gala performance, the spring line-up boasts a diverse mix of new shows ranging from comedy and theatre to music, dance and film.

One not to be missed is a lavish new production of The Wizard of Oz, running from April 13-18 and starring comedian Joe Pasquale and Dani Harmer of Tracy Beaker fame.

Other calendar highlights include the West End smash-hit Morecambe – a celebration of the life and comedy of the late great Eric Morecambe's – on February 26, a concert from platinum-selling Scottish songstress Barbara Dickson in March and the outrageous new musical Hot Flush!, starring Lesley Joseph of Birds Of A Feather fame.

The Playhouse will also host an exciting new adaptation of the hit rom-com film When Harry Met Sally starring Hollyoaks' Sarah Jayne Dunn and Coronation Street's Rupert Hill.

As always, a generous helping of side-splitting comedy is on the bill, including the impossibly brilliant Stewart Lee on February 24 and top stand-up Lucy Porter on March 12, as well as three visits from the consistently rib-tickling Comedy

JOE PASQUALE

BARBARA DICKSON

Club, the first set for January 29. For those after something a little more unusual, look out for the return of celebrity psychics Derek Acorah and Tony Stockwell, a typically stomach-churning visit from The Circus of Horrors and a plentiful supply of children's entertainment.

But it's not all about the famous names. Look out for acclaimed local dance school Hip Hop Pop's adaptation of hit musical The Wiz, the return of high-octane wrestling show Thunderslam and a spring showcase from the talented youngsters at Phoenix Theatre School.

Eight-month festival celebrates county's rich cultural diversity

THE cultural diversity of Essex will be celebrated during an eight-month festival launching in the new year.

Explore Culture: One World is a cultural extravaganza which will see events taking place across the county, from libraries, museums and theatres to streets, parks and village halls.

Launching in March and continuing until October, the festival will explore Essex's identity, heritage and sense of place in the wider world and encourage people to examine who they are and where they come from.

The aim is to promote cultural harmony through the county's many diverse communities, from black and ethnic minority groups to Essex natives.

County councillor Jeremy Lucas, cabinet member for heritage, culture and the arts, said: "The One World festival is about celebrating and bringing together everything that is good about culture in Essex – its people, its diversity and its traditions.

"No-one in the county will be too far from an event and there will be the opportunity for people from all locations and backgrounds to take part or just enjoy a profusion of exciting and interesting activities."

Core funding of £100,000 from the Local Area Agreement Performance Reward Grant will finance next year's festival along with £47,000 from the Heritage Lottery Fund to support an Essex Global Gala and create a touring exhibition featuring the different cultures and traditions in Essex.

Other activities will include a cinema programme, an exhibition of Chinese costumes, an Argentinean street orchestra, Spanish, Danish and German dance, a touring exhibition illustrating the characteristics and peculiarities of the Essex accent, art festivals and world music.

More details about the festival and a special launch event are due to be revealed in January.

SHERLOCK HOLMES Guy Ritchie's reinvention of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's legendary sleuth should have been a dream new beginning for the director following a series of lacklustre offerings. However, his biggest budget to date has produced an entertaining, but ultimately disappointing, minor triumph of style over substance as Robert Downey Jr and Jude Law track a killer who comes back from the dead.

AVATAR (3D & 2D) Four years after his underwater IMAX documentary Aliens Of The Deep, director James Cameron unleashes his latest special effects-laden blockbuster which pushes the boundaries of big-screen technology. When warmonger Colonel Miles Quaritch (Stephen Lang), decides to attack an alien race, his methods change the face of warfare and the fate of a planet.

ST TRINIANS 2: THE LEGEND OF FRITTON'S GOLD The naughty minxes from St Trinian's are back to their old tricks in a lacklustre sequel to the rambunctious 2007 comedy, involving a preposterous treasure hunt around London in search of stolen 16th-century booty. Rupert Everett is still a hoot as the toothy headmistress alongside old flame Colin Firth, while Doctor Who star David Tennant is the chauvinistic villain. Also stars Sarah Harding of Girls Aloud.

ALVIN AND THE CHIPMUNKS: THE SQUEAKQUEL The diminutive trio meet their match in three feisty females who trill with attitude through Beyonce's Single Ladies (Put A Ring On It), Hot N Cold by Katy Perry, So What by Pink and Corinne Bailey Rae's Put Your Records On. The simplistic, linear plot holds no surprises, incorporating a boo-hiss, high-school jock villain, wholesome lessons about friendship and self-sacrifice and chaste romance that nervously approaches the kissing stage.

kids' club

CLOUDY WITH A CHANCE OF MEATBALLS Based on the beloved 1978 children's book by Judi and Ron Barrett, Cloudy With A Chance Of Meatballs is a comical fantasy about one man's pursuit of his dreams. Phil Lord and Christopher Miller's computer-animated film is also a colourful morality tale about the gluttony of the West, where bigger is apparently always better. Bill Hader voices the inventor whose contraption causes food to rain from the sky, while Anna Faris is the inexperienced weathergirl asked to cover this meteorological phenomenon.

G-FORCE Blockbuster producer Jerry Bruckheimer's first 3D film is a light-hearted mix of live action and digital trickery which follows a team of guinea pigs recruited to covertly fight terrorism. The turbo-charged screenplay panders to the short attention-span of children by packing as many thrills and spills and poop gags into 88 minutes as possible.

DID YOU HEAR ABOUT THE MORGANS? certificate PG 1h43m

WHAT a difference a decade makes. The last time Hugh Grant and Sarah Jessica Parker worked together, they played medics in the misfiring 1996 thriller Extreme Measures. He was coasting along on the multi-award-winning successes of The Remains Of The Day, Four Weddings And A Funeral and Sense And Sensibility while she struggling to carve out a niche with a varied CV including Footloose, Honeymoon In Vegas, Hocus Pocus and Ed Wood. Fast-forward to the present day, Parker is now the global icon thanks to her role as Carrie Bradshaw on Sex And The City, while Grant has surrendered to typecasting as the bumbling Brit.

He trots out that very same performance in the romantic comedy Did You Hear About The Morgans? Real estate agent Meryl Morgan (Parker) and her husband Paul (Grant) are estranged after he cheated on her. Unable to forgive the man she once loved, Meryl leads a separate life to Paul and is now ready to ask for a divorce via her trusty personal assistant Jackie (Elisabeth Moss). But during a rare night out, the Morgans stumble upon hit-man Vincent (Michael Kelly) shooting his latest target. As the only witnesses to the crime, Meryl and Paul are rushed into protective custody and gifted new identities before being flown to a secret location: a dead-end town in Wyoming. There they pretend to be relatives of sheriff Clay Wheeler (Sam Elliott) and his gun-toting wife Emma (Mary Steenburgen) until the police back in New York City apprehend Vincent. As they spend time in each other's company, Meryl and Paul realise how much they still love each other – but his infidelity prays on her mind. Did You Hear About The Morgans? is a conventional fish-out-of-water comedy, contrasting the fast-paced, big-city lifestyle of Meryl and Paul with the laidback, community-oriented existence of their new neighbours. Grant plies his usual charm to ensure his adulterous husband remains likeable, confessing that he did not enjoy his one moment of extra-marital sex. Parker milks our sympathy as the wronged wife before the script attempts a reversal of power that feels contrived. An action-oriented finale involving a bull is preposterous, with a thick smothering of schmaltz in an epilogue that neatly ties up the loose ends six months later.

NINE certificate 12A 1h58m

WITH a mantelpiece full of plaudits for his direction of the film version of Chicago, Rob Marshall plies more razzle dazzle with a colourful and energetic adaptation of the award-winning Broadway musical Nine. Film director Guido Contini (Daniel Day Lewis) suffers a crisis of confidence a little over a week before he is due to start shooting his new film. Beset with worry, he seeks guidance from his elegant mother (Sofia Loren) as well as various family and friends, including his shamefully-neglected wife Luisa (Marion Cotillard), sultry mistress Carla (Penelope Cruz), costume designer Lilli (Dame Judi Dench) and his on-screen muse, Claudia (Nicole Kidman).

GROUP OF NEWSPAPERS

RELEASED:
Hawks boss Marvin Samuel has lost goal-keeper Ashley Harris leave (HSP0616969)

Ash ignites moves from Harlow Town

GOALKEEPER Ashley Harris has quit Harlow Town FC after losing his spot to Callum Horton.

Harris had worked his way into the team in the latter stages of Anthony Anstead's brief reign.

However, after Anstead quit at the end of November, his replacement Marvin Samuel brought in Horton.

Samuel said: "I wanted to keep him and he wanted a way out. It shows the mentality of some footballers. They are scared of competition."

Hawks club secretary Nathan Kitteridge is also a keeper and can be used in an emergency but Samuel has no plans to bring in another experienced keeper.

"It's very rare that keepers get injured. If we are struggling for one I will get one," he said.

Samuel also hopes to bring in a holding midfielder player.

Any further changes to the squad will take place in the next couple of weeks, then there will be no more signings expected.

"A few changes will be made in the next couple of weeks and I will then stick with the squad to the end of the season."

Defeats for duo despite 180s

Darts

SUPERB 180s from Mick Adderson and Ron Green could not prevent Moot House Arrows from losing 6-2 to leaders White Admiral in the Harlow & District Premier Darts League.

Green's maximum, his third of the season, means he joins son Damian at the top of the 180s league.

John Wildish also notched a 180 for Admiral, while Servo Link were gifted all eight points by Golden Swift.

Admiral lead Link in the league by one point.

Staple Tye Colts' 5-3 victory against Moot House left them in third place.

Tye Green Whites beat an under-strength UG 7-1.

Colt Hatch were held to a 4-4 draw at The Cru thanks to a magnificent 144 check-out from Steve South. This puts him in second place in the outshot table. Stow Snooker beat Harlow Hawks 5-3 and Young Pretenders took all eight points from Tye Green Foxes.

Robins game off

SAWBRIDGEWORTH Town FC's home derby against Stansted on Boxing Day was postponed because of a frozen pitch.

The fixture will be rescheduled in the new year.

The Robins will go into 2010 in fourth place in the Essex Senior Football League table.

Peter Wickham's men still have a great chance of winning the title after a tremendous first half of the season.

Sawbo host Baisdon United on Saturday (3pm KO).

Dame Kelly's one-to-one with Harlow's GB ace Osagie

Athletics

DOUBLE Olympic gold medal winner Dame Kelly Holmes visited Harlow's Andrew Osagie at St Mary's University.

Osagie's mentor has kept a close eye on the progress of the Harlow Athletic Club 800m runner as he gears up for an important year.

ANDREW OSAGIE

Osagie needs to have a great indoor season if he is to maintain the momentum built up in a tremendous summer campaign.

He is targeting the Commonwealth Games in Delhi, India, next year.

Dame Kelly enjoyed an end of year review session with Osagie and 11 other elite athletes as part of the education and mentoring initiative 'On Camp with Kelly', supported by Aviva.

This culminates a year's worth of training, race preparation, competition, awards, mentoring, educational activities and international championships for the young athletes and their coaches.

The athletes, many of whom are undergraduate students at St Mary's University, enjoyed one-on-one mentoring with Dame Kelly and took part in a training session at the West London college.

Dame Kelly said: "It's great to be able to get the athletes together for sessions like this. "When they are together as a group there is a really positive energy in what can sometimes be quite an individual sport."

"Having review sessions and mentoring opportunities like this one at St Mary's provides the athletes with a healthy and motivated environment, giving them a lift for the year ahead."

Youngster overcomes freezing conditions to record excellent win

Cross country

HARLOW-based runner Perry Rowan produced his best performance to date to win a 3.8km U-13 boys race in freezing conditions in the Chingford Cross Country League.

The 13-year-old Burnt Mill School pupil was 5th after one lap of the 1km course but he then produced a fantastic second lap.

This moved him up to second with 200 metres to go.

His final burst saw him win by 10 metres, finishing in a time of 14 mins 13 secs.

The event at Muswell Hill in North London was marked by sub-zero temperatures and four inches of snow.

His coach John Stow said: "Perry deserves this result and after only two months of being in the sport it is clear to me we have an emerging talent here."

In the same race, 12-year-old Ben Patterson from Mark Hall School, representing Orion Harriers, was 13th in 15:26.

In the U-13 girls race, Sky Mulvey (11) was 5th in 16:18 and Mark Hall pupil Alicia McDardell (12) finished 7th in 16:48.

Stewards School student Sam Bengie (16) was 10th in 19:38 in the U-17 boys race.

All athletes, apart from Patterson, were representing Woodford Green AC.

Seven athletic clubs competed in the event.

IN THE DARK: Officials and players are left in the dark after the floodlights went off with just five minutes remaining against Ware on Boxing Day. However, there were back on seven minutes later and the game was completed (s)

Edwards lights up Boxing Day

Close to the hour, Harlow were denied a second goal by Matt Turpin's goal-line clearance after Grant flicked on from Simpson's dangerous ball into the six-yard box.

Hawks were stung when Ware levelled on 76 minutes with a good finish from Bolle inside the box after more poor Hawks defending.

Late on, Grant went close with a free-kick before Edwards' goal-bound shot from seven yards was tipped onto the upright and away for a corner by Wiseman.

Samuel added: "We need wins but this is one more point than we did have. They started with 4-5-1, very defensive. We are gaining the respect we deserve in this league."

HARLOW TN: Horton, Cleo, E. Green, Walker, Thomas, Elliott, Simpson, Leonard (Whitbread 76), Grant, Edwards, Dobson (Ajola 81). Subs not used: Akinnawo, Osei. Att: 193.

CUTTING EDGE: The successful martial artists with their black belt certificates and swords (s)

Samurai men a cut above!

SOME sharp work with Japanese samurai swords has secured black belts for several Harlow sportsmen.

The fighters came through a gruelling examination before they gained their shodan in Muso Shugyo Ryu.

Mark Pemberton, Ray Shoebridge, Gary Cooper and Peter Cross, who all came from Harlow, progressed after a seven-and-a-half hour grading at Latton Woods in North Harlow and North Weald Village Hall.

Martial Arts

Club-mates Steve and Jonathan Eady, and Domi Galizia were the other successful players to achieve the black belt grade.

Muso Shugyo Ryu's instructor Mike Graham, a 10th dan black belt, said: "There is still a long way to go for them in the future. They have worked very hard to get this far and I am very proud of them."

Muso Shugyo Ryu will be offering a beginners' program in January for anyone who would like to try out samurai.

It is a six-week programme covering the basics of iaido (sword drawing) kenjutsu (sword fencing) yari jutsu (Japanese spear), naginata (Japanese pole arm) along with learning about the samurai, the historic Japanese warriors.

For those who wish to carry on and are of a suitable character, they can begin the school syllabus and join the team for training.

Club instructor Graham said: "The art of the samurai is perfectly suited for all ages and sexes, and I have found that females make the best sword practitioners. All equipment will be supplied for six weeks."

For more information, call Mr Graham on 07940 059294.

Two more depart as Hawks look for player No.52

The Hawks have a break now until January 9 after bringing forward their away match against Ware from January 2 back in September.

They next host Heybridge Swifts and Samuel will be boosted by the return of holidaying midfielders Taser Hassan and Jordan Lambert.

Defender Elliott Green, who suffered a back injury against Ware, should also be fit along with striker Mervyn Abraham (calf injury). Ashley Taylor-Forbes is unlikely to return though.

Ajola, a lively presence as sub against Ware, could make his first start. He has been playing academy football and was recommended to Samuel.

Leonard has not been playing regularly and looks to be a stop-gap measure for Samuel who needs a ball-winning midfielder if Evong Tamberson quits the club.

Following the Swifts derby, Harlow host promotion-chasing East Thurrock United.

After a win and a draw in their last two league games, Samuel is happy with his side's form heading into an important 2010. "We are unbeaten in two games. We have got to start somewhere. One goal [against Ware] was never going to be good enough, but at least we are creating chances," he said.

"Every team poses different problems and we are adapting in games. Earlier in the season Ware would have gone on to win 2-1."

● HARLOW Town's scheduled league match at Enfield Town on Tuesday was postponed due to a waterlogged pitch.

Race ace Bowen's a Christmas Cracker

HARLOW race ace Luke Bowen delivered a battling performance to finish third for Rye House Rockets in Scunthorpe's Christmas Cracker meeting on Sunday – the only outdoor speedway event of its kind outside of the regular season.

Recent bad weather made the track conditions difficult, but the rider attacked the circuit with a fighting display that highlighted the continued progress he has made during the last two seasons and sets the scene nicely for the 2010 campaign.

Three consecutive race wins helped him to 11 points in five starts over the main programme, and safely into the semi-final, where he finished second behind Ben Barker.

The final saw him finish third, behind meeting winner Kevin Doolan (King's Lynn) and home star Jerran Hart.

The unluckiest rider must have been Kings Lynn star Jordan Frampton, who was adjudged guilty of tape touching in his semi-final and then fell in the re-run when starting off a 15m penalty.

LUKE BOWEN

Lucky seventh as Year Ends with bang

Running

JARED Bethell ran an excellent race to come 7th in the Buntingford Year End 10-mile road race on Sunday.

The Harlow Running Club member clocked a superb time of 58 mins 24 secs which was just five seconds outside his personal best (PB) for the distance.

He was followed home by Jamie Luck in 1hr 13min 54sec, Sean Flynn (1:15.34, just 30 seconds outside his PB), Martin McColgan (1:17.30), Susie Morley (1:45.43 in her debut race) and Ron Luck in 1:48.50. More than 400 runners competed.

Two more depart as Hawks look to sign player No.52 this season

THEY say there is nothing like a settled squad to beat relegation or make a bid for promotion – and at Harlow Town FC there is absolutely nothing like a settled squad!

The debut of midfielder Lionel Leonard and 17-year-old substitute Toby Ajola in the Boxing Day 1-1 draw against Ware took the number of players who have made appearances for the Ryman division one north strugglers over the half century mark.

Some 51 players have now adorned the red and white shirt under boss Marvin Samuel and his predecessor Anthony Anstead since August.

And when you consider the number of personnel changes which took place after former manager Glen Alzapiedi replaced Ryan Kirby a year ago, there has probably been up to 100 different Hawks players in the last 12 months.

The latest departure came on the coaching team when assistant boss Glynn Mason threw in the towel because of 'work commitments'.

The ex-Cheshunt boss had been brought in by Anstead in the summer.

His timely departure – announced directly before the Ware game – followed that of midfielder Jason Mason. The ex-Bishop's Stortford has left after a five-month spell at Barrows Farm to join division one north rivals Brentwood Town.

Meanwhile, the transfer of left-back

THE DEPARTED: Jason Mason, top right, and assistant boss Glynn Mason have quit the Hawks

Keiron Street from Wingate & Finchley has been hit by paperwork and is unlikely to go through now.

It means Samuel is now in the market for a new left-back – player 52 of the season – to boost his squad. "I'm still looking for a left-back – there is not enough competition for places," explained Samuel.

Goal king Edwards lights up Boxing Day

Harlow Tn 1, Ware 1
Ryman League, division one north

FORGOTTEN man Julian Edwards gave a timely reminder to Hawks boss Marvin Samuel that he need not look much further for a new frontman.

Edwards scored a marvellous goal against Ware and linked up well with skipper Wayne Grant in a partnership which could be the key to Harlow Town climbing out of the relegation mire.

Incredibly it was Edwards' first league goal since joining the club. Samuel said: "Julian did very well. I said to him this morning this is your chance – you must take it. He took his goal really well. He had a second opportunity but their keeper made a tremendous save."

But the hosts were undone by a 76th-minute equaliser from former Bishop's Stortford forward Adam Bolle.

But there was late drama and fears the match would be abandoned after a faulty generator caused a floodlight failure on 85 minutes.

There was a seven-minute delay before club officials managed to get the lights back on.

This was the second time this season the cash-strapped Hawks have seen the floodlights go out this season (during the Concord match in September which was abandoned after 24 minutes).

Harlow gave a debut to central midfielder Lionel Leonard, who has stepped up to play at this level.

Ware went close early on when hesitation from Harlow centre-half Jason Walker allowed Luke Marshall to nip in, but his low shot was well tipped around by Horton.

The hosts were unlucky not to get a penalty on 20 minutes. Grant over-reacted when Sam Rose clipped his ankle in the box and the referee refused to award a spot-kick.

Minutes later Walker's header hit the upright from a corner. Edwards stabbed the loose ball into the net but the official strangely awarded a free-kick for a foul.

The Hawks finally took a deserved lead on the stroke of half-time.

Excellent play from young winger Reece Dobson, who beat several Ware players, preceded the ball falling to Edwards.

The striker was poised on the edge of the left side of the box but curled the ball superbly around Ware keeper Ricky Wiseman and into the far side of the net.
